Brendan O'Connor and John Linwood Griffin presented a well-received paper at the Digital Identity Management workshop, exploring an online stock market where "users can trade reputation shares of other users and obtain goodwill dividends". Well, Brendan did the actual presenting; JLG just sat back and watched.